

The "Positive Circle" Exercise

Inside the Exercise

This is a simple and quick exercise you can do to boost individual and team confidence. Have each player taking a turn holding the ball. They throw the ball to a team mate then say some positive comments about the players performance in the last game.

Some players maybe be a little shy, but it evokes team members to "talk positively" about each other.